

Welcome Our Special Guest

Michele Guarlotti Jacobson, D.O.

Dr. Michele Guarlotti Jacobson was born and raised in Greensburg, Pennsylvania. Dr. Jacobson is an alumni from both Blessed Sacrament Cathedral and Greensburg Central Catholic High School, where she was the senior class president. She graduated with highest honors from St. Vincent College earning a B.A. degree in Biology. She earned her D.O. degree in medicine from Des Moines University in 1997. She completed an OB/GYN Residency at St. John Detroit Riverview Hospital. In 2001, she returned to practice obstetrics and gynecology in her hometown and has done so until currently. In 2011, Dr. Jacobson opened the doors to her new practice, Athena Women's Care, where she is dedicated to providing gynecological care to women of all ages. Her philosophy of service is to welcome patients into a practice where education and experience is combined with real care and compassion.

Dr. Jacobson is dedicated to a lifetime of continuing education. She has received specialized training in Robotic Surgery to provide minimally invasive surgery. She trained in Endometrial Ablations and Incision Free Tubal Ligation. In 2011, Dr. Jacobson received the Readers' Choice Gold Award in OB/GYN. Dr. Jacobson is also a guest lecturer at St. Vincent College for the Nurse Anesthetist program and Medical Science program.

Dr. Michele Jacobson is married to Scott Jacobson, D.O., who practices medicine as well. They are proud parents of their daughter, Leah, who is in 8th grade and attends Greensburg Central Catholic and son Luciano, who is in 5th grade and attends Aquinas Academy. In her free time she enjoys spending time with her family, outdoor adventures, cooking and working in her garden.
